Project ID: 10

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Each year the Forest Health Unit, belonging to Spanish Ministry of Agriculture, Foods and Environment, produces a series of annual reports summarizing the main results concerning forest condition and its relationship with vitality, climate change and general trends in forest condition. One of these tasks is the monitoring of Spanish forest condition through the large scale and the intensive monitoring networks. Usually, the reports contain a series of maps, graphs, figures and tables with the main results from Spain. This year's reports (corresponding to survey 2011) are currently in process and they should contain a table showing the defoliation data in survey 2011 not only for Spain but for the rest of Europe as well.
